Before you sign up with an agency

What each agency covers

Most focus on office and finance jobs. This is what they say on their own websites:

- Broad office and finance roles: Park Personnel, Top Personnel, Rowlands and Kendrick Rose.
- Finance, funds and trust roles: AD Offshore. The vacancies at Thomas & Dessain lean the same way.
- Risk, compliance and audit only: Compliance Recruitment Specialists.
- Hospitality, retail and manual work: GR8 Recruitment, which also recruits people from outside the Channel Islands.

Can an agency charge you?

Ask before you register. The code of conduct for Jersey agencies doesn't ban fees outright. An agency can only charge you if it has given you its fees in writing first, or displayed them if you pay in person, and it can't charge more than that. Seafarers generally can't be charged at all.

If you leave a job within two days because it's unsuitable, the code says you don't have to pay the agency's placement fee.

Who regulates agencies

Anyone running an agency for profit must register with the Minister for Social Security under the Employment Agencies (Registration) (Jersey) Law 1969, and you can complain to the Minister under the code. We couldn't find a live public list of registered agencies. To check one, call Employment, Social Security and Housing on 01534 444444.

If you temp through an agency

The Jersey Advisory and Conciliation Service says someone engaged through an agency stays the agency's employee. Ask it if you're not sure who's responsible for what.

The gov.je leaflet on temporary work says you're entitled to:

- written terms within 4 weeks
- at least the minimum wage, which has been £13.59 an hour since 1 April 2026
- a payslip
- a 20-minute break after 6 hours
- 3 weeks' paid holiday a year, pro rata, plus bank holidays

Your status: Standard, Licensed and Entitled

Your residential status decides which jobs you can do, so ask the agency whether a job is open to you. "Registered" was renamed "Standard" on 14 September 2026, and you'll still see both words.

- Standard (formerly Registered): the usual starting point for newcomers. You can only do jobs an employer has a Standard permission for.
- Licensed: tied to one job that your employer holds a licence for.
- Entitled for Work Only: usually after 5 years' unbroken residence. You can do any job.
- Entitled: usually after 10 years' unbroken residence. You can do any job and buy, sell or rent any property.

Moving to Jersey for work

gov.je says British and Irish citizens don't need a work permit, but everyone else does, and the employer applies for it. Newcomers also face limits on where they can live, so check this before you accept a job.

Listings are free and in alphabetical order. Jersey Web is not connected with these businesses unless a listing says so: check details with each business before you book. Guidance checked 4 November 2026.
